The Village Postoffice.

The ladies' circle of the Congregational church held their March supper and entertainment at the Grange hall, Wednesday evening, which proved to be the most successful circle of the season. Each previous one netted good sums, but from this one was realized over $80.

Supper was served from six to eight in the dining hall, and the ladies were kept busy during the two hours, serving the large crowd which came from far and near, including North Norway, Norway Lake, South Paris and Oxford. The supper was one of the baked bean variety, with all kinds of salads and pastry.

After the supper the drama entitled "The Village Postoffice," was presented under the direction of Nellie Andrews, Mrs. H. L. Bartlett and Vivian Dingley.

The theme of the drama was in an old fashioned country store and postoffice, where the different dwellers of the community came to do their buying.

Among these were found the postmaster, L. I. Gilbert, a fat, good natured, old fellow, slightly inquisitive but right on his feet at the store. His wife, Edith S. Bartlett, was the best at making sales, sticking to her prices, and very anxious to know all the news that came through the mail at the office. There was a daughter, Elizabeth, Gladys Keene, who came from college with extremely elevated ideas after giving a lecture on the "Essentials of the Essentially Essential." Joseph, their son, Homer Luck, was good at chopping three sticks of wood for the fire, and a devoted lover to Susan Smith, Mildred Holmes, who denounces her love for the diletante, stuttering Irishman, Walter Chandler, with locks of fiery red, who tried to talk and sing all at once and wound up with a whistle.

The story tellers were there in the persons of R. H. Noyes, G. W. Holmes and E. E. Andrews. Noyes was a veteran soldier with a long grey beard and a kink in the knee, so much so the boys thought he might warp if he stayed near the stove. Holmes was the biggest story teller, told of a corn stalk, a harvest of corn from the roots of the corn stalks. Andrews was the one who took the bouquets from a number of his friends in the audience, and he was a picture of gracefulness, adorned with flowers and dressed in a white suit, a soft hat and gorgeous colored tie.

The horse trader was there in the person of L. M. Longley, red whiskers and all. His experiences with new spring suspenders which doubled him, was not as he liked to be stuck to the old ones. His wife, Lizzy Ann, and Fannie Holmes, came with him. She was afflicted with entertaining her city cousins, but she said she'd fix 'em; would serve em skin milk, eggs the old in a sack on for two weeks, blouses without a seam and a pair of knickerbocker raspberry sauce, "that would do it."

Betty, Nellie Andrews, the town gossip and dressmaker, says she don't sew for Mrs. Herman Horne any more, as she is too busy with her own sewing. She knew a young lady named Parker was to be married, for she was making a wedding dress for her. She said she attended the wedding of Francis Swift and Geneva Barker the other day.

The wedding dress was the one her mother wore. It didn't fit for her mother weighed 100 pounds more than she. There were several calamities among the courtships of the clerks at Smiley's, so they say. The person, Philip Stone, read a portion of his resignation, saying he couldn't live on $300 and doing penitential parties, and was going "to the penitentiary to prepare a place for you."

Mary Ann, Mrs. Minnie Bangs, little deaf, Mrs. Dopey, Mrs. Alice Stearns; Martha, Mrs. Nellie Shepard, Nellie Ann, Clara Shepard; Mary, Mildred Noyes and Ann, Marion Bangs; all came to the office for mail, buying a few articles and spinning a yarn or telling a little news to the "old men" who were around the stove.

Cyrus, Dr. Harry Jones, was a pretty good story teller. He don't like sweaters though, he being so large and the sweater so small made it fit most too quick, and he almost lost his head getting out.

SOUTH WATERFORD.

Bear Mountain Grange.

Beav Mountain Grange had a good old fashioned up-to-date meeting, recently. The new lately installed board of officers were in their chairs in the room wearing their official dignities for the first time, but every utterance and motion was according to the ritual from

Worthy Master through the whole roll, acquaintance with study and familiar of the order. Any self-respecting and well instructed patron takes a pardonable pride in seeing the officers of his Grange occupy the place of honor in the room graceful performance of official duties.

That is why our Grange is happy this year in maintaining its record for conspicuous efficiency of those to whom is committed the important interests of its business and social features of membership. One applicant for admission was received and candidate elected.

Voted to donate five dollars to the fund for erection of a Grange Cottage for Good Will Farm at Hickey, Me., to replace the building recently destroyed by fire.

After a brief recess, Worthy Lecturer introduced a pleasing program in which

Sister Lizzie Hall read a select and amusing story.

Brother Fernald read from the Farm and Fireside, a letter written by an American gentleman in Germany, describing the remarkable advantages enjoyed by the people of that country in possession of the Parcel Post, which they have had for more than 100 years, and a greatly improved and extended system since 1878. "It is the very thing," says our traveler, "that we have been beseeching Congress to establish, and the thing that the Grange and other farm organizations in the United States have been endorsing in their resolutions for years.

Brother Sias gave a fine reading of

"The Hymn of the Species," by Marion

C. Smith in the Independent, with no apology to Rayward Kipling.

The principal feature of the program was the discussion of the question—solved that the labor and care of the farmer's wife are more severe and wearing than those of the farmer. The debate was opened by Sister Riggs, who argued that although the farmer's work demanded a greater exercise of physical strength in many cases, yet the labor and necessary cares of the farmer's wife, and the never ceasing cares for her house and its furnishings, her responsibility for the cooking and prompt service of meals for her family, and for the health, clothing and home education of her children, are quite as exacting as the domestic labor and cares of the farmer. The argument of Sister Riggs was endorsed by excellent and apt illustrations of every day facts.

Sister Haggood chose to espouse the cause of the laborer, who, she thought, represents a much wider field of responsibility in the general economy of farm management than the lady of the manor, no matter how many children they may have to provide for. The importance of waiting for the wife, in times and seasons for execution of outdoor farm work, for cultivation of the land and spring seeding, and for all farm operations during the season, including the harvesting at the proper time, and these and other considerations, were adduced to show a good argument in favor of the farmer as the purtier in management of the farm who was the most strenuous worker and care taker.

Bro. W. K. Hamilton, in humorous vein, said he had many times in his life wished he was a woman; even when he was a ten year old boy and had to yoke

the ox team and go out breaking roads on a cold winter day. It was then he wished "Oh, I wish I was a woman,"

Growers and Dealers in Apples.

What is the matter with our business? There is something wrong. Who gets the profits?

Farmers ought to be getting rich with butter and eggs at 30 to 40 cents; apples $1.50 to $2.00 per barrel and other lines up in proportion.

Did you ever figure up the amount you sold in a single year?

If so you felt pretty rich until you figured the other side and found out how much you had paid out and then you figured how to cut down expenses and wondered if you would be able to pay out as much next year.

Some times when you got stung you did like a horse when bit by a fellow he couldn't see, he bit the fellow nearest to him, and he wasn't to blame at all.

You are an apple grower and you have a line that so far, has paid you a good profit above all charges however exorbitant.

But are you sure there is no man camping on our trail, getting a little more of our profits each year and by and by he will get the profit and we the work. Of course they won't take it all at once or put it so high that we stop doing business. They are too sharp to kill outright the goose that lays the golden egg.

It is my object to point out this fellow and show just what is being done.

I will make this assertion and submit the proofs and if any man can show proofs to the contrary I demand them.

The men who ship apples to foreign markets are losing $1,000,000.00 upon excessive freight rates on the steamship lines across the Atlantic.

To get an idea of what a fare freight rate would be let us examine the rates in 1910.

Two years ago it cost:
10c to ship 100 pounds of cotton.
11 1/2c to ship 100 pounds of flour.
8c to ship 100 pounds of grain.
17c to ship 100 pounds of hay.

An average of $13.05 per 100 barrels. To day we are paying $68.57 freight on 100 barrels of apples.

Excess of apples over the other commodities. 50,000,000 over barrel. This season there will go from American ports practically 3,000,000 barrels making an excess of freight paid upon apples over other commodities of $1,515,000.

I have ample proof that we are losing more than 50 cents upon every barrel of apples that we export.

The main reason that apples have always been assessed the highest rate of freight is that the freight schedules are arranged with the idea of the way to get the most feathers with the least squaking.

In reality it is due to the fact that we neglect to attend to one of the essential points of our business, which is to see that freight rates are not roped by excessive freight.

You will see that two years ago we were paying over four times as much freight upon apples as the average of flour, grain, hay and cotton.

This was not enough to suit, they thought we would stand out. There came rumor that the rate was to go to 7 1/2 cents per barrel, but it finally settled down to an average of 6 cents per barrel, making it .03 5/8.

Let us see what has happened to other lines. The average advance has been nearly 100 per cent.

In 1910 the first-class ships that took their regular cargoes of 10,000 tons of these American goods charged freight to the amount of $307,733.00. In 1912 the same cargo pays $57,813.00, the increase of charges during the past two years being $27,740.00.

A cargo of similar products would be shipped from English ports here for $21,110.00. Carrying a cargo of English goods here $26,103.00 less than they would carry a similar cargo of American goods on the return trip.

Let us see what those increases amount to in a single year. If there was only one cargo a day (which would mean the actual amount) leaving our Atlantic ports it would amount to $10,125,100.00. The same amount would be brought here for $9,227,595.00 less.

How does this happen? Who is doing it?

A few years ago there was a stir in financial circles. Some American had got control of some of the English steamship lines.

This proved to be the man that had engaged H. H. Harriman in a financial battle over a few railroad lines on this side of the water with such vehemence that it shook some of the high financial institutions in England until they were willing to settle in the closet and say nothing. It was J. P. Morgan.

Was there any war? Morgan don't do business that way.

The result was the Steamship Trust and the steady advance in rates. Every line advances the rate the same day.

A year ago the U. S. Government started a suit against them under the Sherman Law. Nothing has been heard of it since.

Let us figure a little and leave broad margins for all uncertainties. Let us assume that we should pay double the freight upon apples that the steamship companies are paying to carry similar freight for, make it 20c per barrel. Then suppose we spend 5c per barrel fighting for our rights, then we will drop 25c by the way, and suppose that the entire overcharge is 30c per barrel. There has been shipped from West Paris this season probably 30,000 barrels of apples.

This means that this fellow has got $9,000.00 that belongs to us. Are we going to let him continue to take it?

Shall we get another advance? We are sure to unless something is done to stop it.

Can we put a stop to this? We surely can if we take hold of the problem like men.

This J. P. Morgan is the same man that is known as the Morgan-Guggenheim Syndicate the uncounted millions of wealth in the coal fields of Alaska were to be delivered to them by President Taft's good Secretary Ballinger. Two months later when the Morgan-Guggenheim, Glavis, objected. President Taft removed them for insubordination, but the public is aroused and an investigation started. This investigation was before a committee, the majority of whom stood for the same things that Morgan, Guggenheim, Ballinger and Taft stand for. Lewis D. Brandeis, the attorney for Glavis and Pinchot, knew before the hearing just how the committee would stand. I read an article by one of those muckraking magazine writers predicting the report of the committee, both the majority and minority reports.

This great committee labored for months and brought forth the report just as prophesied before the hearing. But Mr. Brandeis' will apparently speaking to the committee was really speaking to the people. The people took notice and the coal lands are saved. Why? Because there is no man that stands so much in fear as the corrupt politician when the people really go after him.

This fellow that is camping on our trail is a Trust, fostered, protected and existing solely by the assistance and permission of the men we elect.

Will we stand back like imbecile degenerates, like whipped pups and see this condition continue? Or will we like men of brains and action worthy of the name of American citizens see to it that these matters are rectified?

West Paris, Me., Feb. 24, 1912.
R. L. CUMMINGS.

Cause for Alarm.

Loss of Appetite or Distress After Eating a Symptom That Should not Be Disregarded.

Appetite is just a natural desire for food. Loss of appetite or stomach distress after eating indicate indigestion or dyspepsia. Over-eating is a habit very dangerous to a person's good general health.

It is not what you eat but what you digest and assimilate that is your good. Some of the strongest, healthiest, and healthiest persons are moderate eaters.

There is nothing that will cause more trouble than a disordered stomach, and many people daily contract serious maladies simply through disregard or abuse of the stomach.

We urge all in Norway who suffer from any stomach derangement, indigestion, or dyspepsia, whether acute or chronic, to try Rexall's Dyspepsia Tablets, with the distinct understanding that we will refund their money without question or formality, if after reasonable use of this medicine, they are not perfectly satisfied with the results.

We recommend them to our customers every day, and have yet to hear of any one who has not been benefited by them. We honestly believe them to be without equal. They give very prompt relief, aiding to neutralize the gastric juices, strengthen the digestive organs, to regulate the bowels, and thus to promote perfect nutrition, and eradicate all unhealthy symptoms.

We urge you to try a 25c box of Rexall's Dyspepsia Tablets, which gives 15 days' treatment. At the end of that time, your money will be returned to you if you are not satisfied. Of course, in chronic cases length of treatment varies. For such cases, we have two larger boxes, which sell for 50c and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain Rexall's Remedies in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store. F. P. Stone, 148 Main Street, Norway.

Headaches and Their Treatment.

In treating a headache, there is one safe rule to follow:—Never use any medicine containing acetanilid or similar coal-tar derivatives without the advice of your physician. They may give temporary relief, but they almost never reach the cause of the trouble and are likely to weaken the heart. The most common form of headache, frequently called sick headache, arising from a disordered stomach, may be avoided by care in the choice of food. Shun pastry, candy and rich food, take time to eat, chew your food thoroughly and keep your bowels in good condition by using one-half to one teaspoonful of L. F. Atwood's Medicine after each meal. This old reliable remedy has been a perfect blessing to thousands for sixty years. Get a bottle today, and prove it for yourself. Any dealer has it for thirty-five cents, or we mail a free sample on request. L. F. Medicine Co., Portland, Me.

WEST PARIS.

Mrs. Gertrude Stewart returned from the C. M. G. hospital last Wednesday. Mrs. F. H. Hill visited her mother and brother, Ned Packard, in Greenwood, last week.

Mr. W. S. Austin of South Paris spent the day, Tuesday, with her sister, Mrs. S. T. White.

Mrs. I. L. Bowker was up from Portland to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Tuell, a few days last week.

The West Paris Cemetery Association will hold their annual meeting, Friday evening, March 8, at 7.30, in Centennial hall.

Roscoe Tuell has a flock of thirteen Rhode Island Red pullets that began to lay, Oct. 10, and since that time have produced 890 eggs or 7416 dozen, which have been sold for $26.48, making over $2.00 from each pullet.

George Morton, agent of the Little Giant Lighting System, has installed two street lights, one on the corner of Main and Maple streets and one beyond the Universalist church, opposite C. F. Barden's. This makes a good beginning towards a street light system for our village. Two or three more would light up in pretty good shape.

The last quarterly conference of the Methodist Episcopal church will be held here at the church, Thursday evening, March 14th. District Superintendent Palmer of Lewiston will be present. It is his last year as district superintendent, therefore the last time the people here will have a chance to meet him in his present relation.

The lecture to be given by Rev. C. H. Young, D. D., of the Faculty of the "Indiana" will be given at the P. B. church, Tuesday evening, March 12th, at 7.45. This lecture will be illustrated by stereoscopic views and motion pictures, showing Indians in their camp life, and some of the personal reminiscences and adventures of the lecturer as he came in touch with the Red Men of the plains during the time he was a cow boy in the West.

Edwin R. Berry has kept account of two flocks of his Barred Plymouth Rock pullets, which are as follows:—The first flock of 31, hatched April 1st, began to lay Aug. 20th, have produced, to Mar. 1st, 208 eggs or 1734 dozen. The second flock of 15, hatched June 1st, began to lay Nov. 28th, have produced, to March 1st, 756 eggs or 63 dozen. Total number produced by both flocks is 2,838 eggs or 238 1/2 dozen. These pullets have been kept in open front houses, with mercury running to ten degrees below zero at times. The records are pretty good and we would like to hear from others.

Pomona Grange met here, Tuesday, with a big delegation from all the neighboring Granges. The fifth degree was conferred upon three candidates and were admitted by ballot cards. At the forenoon session, a bountiful dinner was served in the dining hall. The afternoon program consisted of several selections by the West Paris Grange double mixed quartette, which received many compliments. Two of three readings were given by Mrs. J. F. Wood, which were enjoyed as also a solo by Mrs. Orrie Bird were enjoyed. F. I. Wyman gave a five minute talk on "What is my duty to do in my orchard this spring." Then there was a discussion on the question as to whether the present school system was not too hard for the children and that it might be better to have less weeks of school per year and put the work into a five year course instead of four. This was the minority question discussed by the recent State Grange Superintendent Knight, Charles Richardson, superintendent of Greenwood, John Bond of Norway and others talked on this subject. The meeting altogether was a most enjoyable and profitable one.

OXFORD.

William Fauce is quite sick.

Henry Marr, who has been confined to the house for some time, is again able to be out.

The severe storm which came Feb. 27, drifted badly, making the roads almost impassable.

Mrs. Quimby Millett, who has been to the C. M. G. Hospital, is better, but owing to the bad traveling she was not able to come home as soon as expected.

Easter will be observed by a concert in the Congregational church and a committee has been appointed to make necessary preparations.

The Women's Missionary Society held a very interesting meeting on Friday afternoon at the home of the president, Mrs. G. B. Turner. The subject was, "Intemperance on the Day of Prayer." By the will of the late Robeson Baker, one hundred dollars was left the Riverside Cemetery, and one-third of the remainder of her property to the Congregational church in Oxford and by the will of Mrs. S. E. Kip, five hundred dollars each for the before mentioned church and Welchville church and the remainder of property with the exception of $1000 to the Freeland Holmes Library.

Hattie Andrews is intending to spend the week-end with Mrs. Cash.

The T. A. Roberts Corps gave three sick Veterans a post card shower last week.

Arthur Hanscom has moved from the Cy Linnell house on Pleasant street to the Cy Hayes rent on Main street.

The Boy Scouts walked up to Paris, Saturday, March 24. They must have had a good time up there to compensate for the tramp on a day like Saturday.

Margaret Walker came home Thursday, Feb. 29th. She had to be brought on a cot bed. She stood the journey as well as could be expected, for one so sick. She has good courage.

Rev. Clarence Brown preached a grand sermon, Sunday, on the power of God. Text Eph. 1:19: "And what is the exceeding greatness of his power to us-ward who believe, according to the workings of his mighty power." Rev. Mr. Eaton led the meeting, Sunday night, for Rev. Mr. Brown.

The T. A. Roberts W. R. C. had a good turnout, Saturday afternoon. They were expecting the P. B. in so many refreshments of cake and ice cream, but none of the Soldiers came. Some of the veterans were sick and the rest were getting ready for town meeting, but the Corps had a fine time even if they were disappointed.

DENMARK.

The town raised $600 for the soldiers monument, it voted to accept the care of $300 left by the late Wm. Holt to care for the family burying ground. John A. Brackett, a native of this town, was at the meeting and evinced a marked interest in behalf of the soldiers' monument, in becoming personally responsible. His home has been for years in Lawrence, Mass. The Robetall ladies furnished a splendid dinner.

BRYANT POND.

Event of the Season.
The 33 annual military concert, drill and ball under the auspices of Mt. Christopher, No. 41, Uniform Rank—Knights of Pythias, was held in Dudley Opera House, Bryant Pond, on Monday evening, March 4th. It was a brilliant affair and long to be remembered by those who were present. The concert was given by Hobbs' Premier Orchestra of Lewiston, which is one of the finest in the state.

At the close of the concert Mt. Christopher Co. came on the floor and gave a drill. Their work was fine and highly appreciated. Officers were as follows:—Captain, C. E. Cole; First Lieut., Walter Gordon; Second Lieut., Harry Noyes. At the close of the drill the march was formed with uniformed Sir Knights at the head. The glittering swords made a striking contrast to the beautifully decorated hall, with its streamers of red, white and blue, extending from all four corners of the hall, with a background of flags.

The grand march was formed at 9.30, Captain Clarence E. Cole in the lead, followed by the Knights, followed by about eighty couples. After an order of about sixteen dances the merry party broke up. In fact it was a grand success, and we all wish Mt. Christopher Co., No. 41, an even greater success in 1913.
